INTRODUCTION

This guide is intended to provide a source of references not previously available to special collections in the libraries of the province of British Columbia, and of the states of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington. It was compiled during the year 1978 by the following members of the Special Collections Project, Reference Division, Pacific Northwest Library Association:

Chair	Joy N. Smith
Area Compiler
Alaska	Patricia Wilson
British Columbia	Sue Carter
Idaho	Jerry Glenn
Montana	Jo Self
Oregon	Carol Ventgen
Washington	Paula Walker

The definition of special collection adopted by the Committee--though not rigidly followed--was derived from the following statement, developed by the Committee on Library Collections, American Library Association:

> A collection in which a library endeavors, as far as is reasonably possible, to include all significant works of recorded knowledge for a defined and limited field. The aim, if not the achievement, is exhaustiveness.

References are provided to the subject collections of a variety of libraries. Arrangement is alphabetical by subject.

AERONAUTICS

Science and Business Dept., Seattle Public Library, 1000 Fourth Ave., Seattle, WA 98104
Primarily reference books and periodicals on the history of aeronautics. Current acquisitions are almost entirely in-print items and periodical subscriptions. Extensive U.
